

BABILUS VASES

Babilus is inspired by the architecture of ancient cities, temples and altars, resonating human kind's aspiration to touch the sky. As a series, the vessels illustrate an ancient city's skyline, while each one stands alone as a functional product with a powerful presence that strikes the imagination. The series of vases comes in 2 different sizes. As a vase for a single flower and for a bouquet or for a small plant. All combining natural materials such as bamboo and chipboard with Corian, which was manipulated to resemble stone. Each object was built layer by layer to create a singular rich and vivid texture.
